INTRODUCTION & ACCESS

This playbook provides step-by-step instructions for using the Covington & Burling LLP Admin Document Builder. The builder enables authorized firm personnel to generate professional, fillable PDF documents in the official firm template style — Variant C (Bordered Traditional). All generated documents include the firm letterhead, double-line page frame, gold accent rules, and AcroForm fillable fields for client-facing use.

Accessing the Admin Builder

1. Open a web browser and navigate to the admin page at: [your-domain]/admin/
2. Enter the access key when prompted. The default access key is: covbur1919
3. Upon successful authentication, the admin builder interface will load. Access is maintained for the duration of the browser session via secure session storage.
4. To change the access key, edit the ADMIN_ACCESS_KEY variable in /admin/index.html and redeploy.

Interface Overview

The admin builder has a two-panel layout. The left sidebar (380px) contains all document configuration controls: preset selector, title input, form fields, clauses, and signature blocks. The main area (right) displays a live preview summary and the Generate PDF / Download buttons. A status indicator shows the current state of PDF generation.

Security Note

The admin builder operates entirely in the browser. No document data is transmitted to any server. PDF generation relies on the pdf-lib library loaded via CDN. The access key provides a basic level of protection; for enhanced security, deploy the admin page behind your firm's SSO or VPN.

STEP-BY-STEP: GENERATING A DOCUMENT

Step 1 — Load a Preset or Start Fresh

Use the "Load Preset" dropdown at the top of the sidebar to select a starting template. Available presets include Waiver and Release, Mutual NDA, and Blank. Selecting a preset populates all fields, clauses, and signature blocks automatically. Choose "Custom" to build a document from scratch.

Step 2 — Configure Document Metadata

Enter the document title (e.g., "ENGAGEMENT LETTER"), the output filename (e.g., "engagement-letter.pdf"), and optionally customize the witness preamble text. The witness preamble appears above the signature blocks and typically reads: "IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have executed this Agreement as of the date set forth above."

Step 3 — Add Form Fields

Form fields create fillable blanks in the generated PDF. Each field has a label (displayed text, e.g., "Client Name:") and a name (internal identifier for the AcroForm field). Click "+ Add Field" to add a new field row. Click the × button to remove a field. Field width defaults to 370px but can be customized for each field.

Step 4 — Compose Clauses

Clauses are the substantive provisions of the document. Each clause has a number (e.g., "1."), a title (e.g., "Governing Law."), and body text. Click "+ Add Clause" to add a new clause. Use the text areas to compose the body text. Clauses are rendered with bold number + title on the first line and indented body text below. If content overflows the first page, a new page is automatically created.

Step 5 — Configure Signature Blocks

The builder supports up to two signature blocks displayed side-by-side. Each block has a label (e.g., "Client" or "For Covington & Burling LLP") and fields. The "Signature" field type renders as a signature line with the [SEAL] notation. Click "Add Field" within a signature block to add additional lines (e.g., Print Name, Title, Date).

Step 6 — Generate the PDF

Click the "Generate PDF" button in the main toolbar. The browser will instantaneously build the PDF using the pdf-lib library. A green status indicator confirms successful generation. The PDF is then automatically downloaded to your computer with the filename specified in Step 2.

Step 7 — Distribute the Document

Email the generated PDF to the client or upload it to the firm's document management system. Clients can open the PDF in Adobe Acrobat, Apple Preview, or any modern PDF viewer to fill in the form fields electronically, or print and complete the document by hand.

CREATION GUIDELINES & BEST PRACTICES

1. Document Title Naming

Use full capitalization for document titles (e.g., "MUTUAL NON-DISCLOSURE AGREEMENT"). Center the title between the gold rules. Keep titles concise — ideally one to two lines at 13pt Times Roman Bold. Avoid abbreviations in formal document titles.

2. Field Label Standards

Field labels should end with a colon and be descriptive enough for clients to understand (e.g., "Client Name:" not just "Name:"). Group related fields together. Place date fields early in the document for easy reference. Standard widths: 370 for name/address lines, 200 for dates.

3. Clause Numbering & Structure

Use sequential numbering (1., 2., 3.) for clauses. Each clause should have a short, descriptive title ending with a period (e.g., "Governing Law."). Body text should be in complete, well-formed sentences. Use consistent defined terms throughout (capitalize the first letter of each defined term).

4. Signature Block Configuration

Always include the [SEAL] notation on signature lines to comply with jurisdictions requiring sealed instruments. Use two signature blocks side-by-side for bilateral agreements. For multi-party agreements, use separate signature pages. Include Print Name and Date fields below each signature line.

5. Page Overflow Handling

The template engine automatically creates new pages when content exceeds available space. Signature blocks will always start on a fresh page if fewer than 300 points of vertical space remain. Review multi-page documents to ensure clause breaks occur at logical points.

6. Quality Control Checklist

Before distributing any generated document: (1) Verify all form fields are present and correctly labeled, (2) Confirm clause numbering is sequential, (3) Check that signature blocks match the parties to the agreement, (4) Review for typographical errors in clause body text, (5) Open the PDF in Adobe Acrobat to verify AcroForm field functionality, (6) Confirm the document prints correctly with double-line frame intact.

7. Version Control

Save preset configurations for frequently used document types. Export as preset to capture your configuration as JSON that can be shared with colleagues. Maintain a changelog of preset modifications. For each generated document, retain the configuration used for reproducibility.

GUIDELINES (CONTINUED)

8. Brand Consistency

All documents use the official Variant C (Bordered Traditional) template with Covington & Burling letterhead, navy (#0A1628) and gold (#C2A44F) color scheme, Times Roman typography, and double-line page frames. Do not deviate from this template for client-facing documents without approval from the firm's Brand & Communications team.

TEMPLATE CUSTOMIZATION & TIPS

Customizing the Template Presets

Template presets are defined in `public/js/template-presets.js`. Each preset is a JavaScript object with the following structure: `title` (string), `fields` (array of `{label, name, width}`), `intro` (string), `witnessText` (string), `clauses` (array of `{num, title, body}`), and `signatureBlocks` (array of `{label, fields}`). To add a new preset, edit `template-presets.js` and add your preset object to the `window.CovingtonPresets` object following the existing pattern.

Creating the PDF Programmatically

The browser-side template engine at `public/js/covington-template.js` exposes two functions:

`CovingtonTemplate.generate(def)` which returns a `Uint8Array` of PDF bytes, and `CovingtonTemplate.download(pdfBytes, filename)` which triggers a browser download. You can call these from any page on the site or from browser developer tools for quick document generation.

Adding New Document Types

To create a document type not covered by existing presets: (1) Open the admin builder and select "Custom" from the preset dropdown, (2) Enter the document title and output filename, (3) Add form fields for each blank the client needs to complete, (4) Compose the substantive clauses, (5) Configure signature blocks. Once satisfied, click "Export as Preset" to save the configuration as JSON. You can then add this JSON to `template-presets.js` as a new named preset.

Deployment & Updates

The admin builder is a static HTML page deployed via Firebase Hosting. To update: (1) Edit the relevant files in `public/` (`admin/index.html`, `js/covington-template.js`, `js/template-presets.js`), (2) Run `firebase deploy --only hosting` from the project root. All changes take effect immediately upon deployment. No server restarts or Cloud Functions redeployment are required.

Testing New Templates

Always test new or modified templates before distributing to clients: (1) Generate the PDF from the admin builder, (2) Open in Adobe Acrobat and verify all AcroForm fields are fillable, (3) Test in Apple Preview (macOS) as many clients use it, (4) Print the document to verify the double-line frame renders correctly, (5) Have a second reviewer proofread all clause text for accuracy.

Technical Reference

PDF Generation: `pdf-lib v1.17.1` via CDN (`unpkg.com/pdf-lib@1.17.1/dist/pdf-lib.min.js`). Template Engine: `public/js/covington-template.js` (278 lines, IIFE pattern). Presets: `public/js/template-presets.js`. Admin UI: `public/admin/index.html`. Styles: `public/css/admin.css`. Server-side generation: `scripts/generate-fillable-pdfs.js` (Node.js).
